A HEATHEN HEARD FROM.

Editor of The Ledger: If the number of God's elect cannot be increased or diminished, what good does the Foreign Missionary do anyhow? The heathen does not get ten per cent. of the benefits of "that dollar," but the Missionary gets all, and gives nothing in return. It may not look that way to one of God's elect, but it looks that way to A HEATHEN.

FEED.

The rain Sunday put the ground in good shape for work.

A great many farmers are complaining of tobacco dying in this section.

Edward Ratterman of Cincinnati was in our neighborhood Friday and Saturday.

G. W. Powell, whose illness was mentioned some few weeks ago, still lingers. There is no hope for recovery.

Our orchards present a gloomy prospect for apples this season. A number of the trees seem to be diseased; dead bunches of leaves are found all through them.

MORANBURG.

W. E. Wells will have a veranda put up in a few days.

Miss Janie Moran of the Bottom visited Mrs. Alice Marsh Sunday.

McNutt & Foley have about completed a new tobacco barn for John Burgess.

Mrs. Maggie Eitel and her sister, Mrs. Kate Keer, visited their uncle, Henry Crawford, at Dover Saturday and Sunday.

R. K. Lloyd and wife visited friends near Fern Leaf last Sunday. Mr. Lloyd reports tobacco looking well in that section.

A couple went from here Saturday to 'Squire Beasley and he pronounced his usual blessing. "May you live long and be happy."

THE LEDGER correspondent at this place expects to have a neat little building put up fronting on the Germantown pike near the Christian Church, to be used as a notion store and other purposes.

A Remarkable Career Ended.

An extraordinary career ended in the death in New York of Laura B. Sickles, the wayward daughter of General Dan Sickles, who shot and killed Philip Barton Key. Laura Sickles was born in London in 1834 while her father was the American Minister to the Court of St. James. When the General went to Spain as the American Minister under General Grant's administration Laura was 15 years old. She went with him to Madrid, and, young as she was, was sought after by many of the Spanish grandees. She fell in love with a handsome cavalier, and the courtship went on until the General interfered and broke the engagement.

When the General married again Laura left home. She gradually threw off all restraint, and at her death was virtually an outcast. From champagne and the costliest wines that private and public cellars could afford, she turned to gin and whiskey.

The girl who had graced the receptions at the Court of Spain, whom Princes and Princesses had caressed, was now the Circe of back rooms in New York and Brooklyn groceries. She had her followers, though. Her income purchased what grace and charm had once commanded.

She was buried in Greenwood beside her mother—that mother whose frailty brought about the most sensational tragedy of the century.

At Vanceburg Clark Gilbert, charged with complicity in a murder at Sand Hill, has been acquitted.

The wife of Secretary Elkins has founded and endowed a home for poor children at Deer Park, Md., having been deeply impressed with the need of such an institution. Her sympathies had been deeply stirred by various cases requiring surgical aid in the neighborhood of her residence. One little boy she sent to a Baltimore hospital, and paid his expenses for two years. God will surely bless such women as Mrs. Elkins; how much better this than sending money to so-called heathen lands.

A NUMBER of Louisville capitalists are organizing a stock company for the purchase of Bluelick Springs, they having secured an option upon the same. The waters of these well-known springs are of world-wide notoriety, and are contemporaneous with that of the history of the state, recognized not only for their health-giving properties, but the place also as a health and pleasure resort. It is the intention of the new company to erect upon the grounds a large and commodious hotel, with all modern improvements, and also cottages complete, and with all needed conveniences. They will also perfect the facilities for handling and shipping this celebrated water to all points of the country.
